

MRS. MARY BOWEN CALLED TO HER REWARD

(From Saturday's Daily.)
It will be learned with expressions of the deepest sorrow by all residents of the community, that Mrs. Mary Bowen has ended her earthly career, passing away last night at 9:30 o'clock, after an illness that assumed a serious condition about a week ago. A recurrence of a slight stroke of paralysis that she experienced over one year ago, manifested itself, when she was taken to her bed, unable to stay the progress of the fatal affliction. The death of this estimable and popular woman carries to the unknown one who was prominently known to all, and who was held in the highest regard. Her gentle manners, combined with a personality that was strikingly typical of a good woman, gave her an agreeable companionship whether in the home or on occasions that she figured in so often, and especially the sincere affection she always showed for the men of the Civil War era. In other channels her generosity was unassuming, and with the good will entertained for all, she leaves a tribute to her memory that will be cherished for all time.

Mrs. Bowen was among the pioneer arrivals in this city, coming over twenty-seven years ago, when a few homes and many privations faced the intrepid people of that period. Under these trying conditions and burdened as she was without any assistance, the task that faced this woman was the same as many others of the noble band that combatted the seemingly inevitable, but through which she passed and triumphed.

Her loss is deeply deplored, and especially by those who are conversant with the pioneer day. As well will it be sadly regretted by those of the present, for through the lapse of time this gentle woman was endearingly known to all.
She was born in Wales, and arrived in the United States when but two years old. Surviving she leaves only one son, Reese M. Ling, attorney, of this city, to whom the tender sympathy of the community is extended. Her husband preceded her before she came to Arizona, while a few distant relatives are residing in the Eastern states. She was 62 years of age. The date of the funeral will be announced later.

FIRE MILL BURNS.

(From Saturday's Daily.)
The ten stamp mill of the White Gold Mining company, situated on the Hassayampa, near the site of the lower dam of the Walnut Grove Water Storage company, was burned Tuesday, and is a complete loss. No particulars of the fire were learned. Leonard White, superintendent of the company, was in this city at the time, and left yesterday for the camp.

The plant was considered one of the finest in the country, and had been used but little.

MOTORCYCLE RECORD.

Ted Myers, in his motorcycle, yesterday made the run around the Prescott Auto Club loop, carrying one passenger. He made the trip of 45 miles in one hour and thirty-five minutes, which is considered exceptional for a vehicle of that type. The run to Granite Mountain, eleven miles, was made in twenty-two minutes.

NEW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IS ORGANIZED

(From Saturday's Daily.)
At a meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, held in the offices of J. M. W. Moore & Son, Thursday night, R. N. Fredericks was elected president, M. B. Hazeltine first vice president, LeRoy Anderson second vice president, and F. G. Brown treasurer. J. E. Russell will continue as temporary secretary pending the selection of a permanent secretary. The president and two vice presidents were directed to select and propose to the directors the name of some person suitable for the position of secretary.

J. W. Milnes, editor of the Journal-Miner, and E. A. Rogers, editor of the Courier, were elected special members of the board of directors. This was done in view of the unselfish and valuable services these editors have always rendered in the best interests of the city and county. Membership fees and the first quarter's dues are now due and payable to F. G. Brown, treasurer.

Secretary Russell read a bulletin from the Phoenix Chamber of Commerce, and announced that he had fourteen letters of inquiry to answer.

E. S. Clark, F. O. Smith and J. M. W. Moore were appointed a committee to make suggestions relative to minor changes in the by-laws.

M. B. Hazeltine tendered to the Chamber of Commerce the use of the room under the Bank of Arizona, and a vote of thanks was extended to him and the Bank of Arizona for the generous offer.

EXTENSIVE FARMING PROJECT.

(From Saturday's Daily.)
The Hill Hardware company yesterday shipped to Mrs. Gertrude Gates on Oak Creek, a car load of building material, which this energetic woman will utilize on her extensive farming interests in that section, in improving the large acreage she recently acquired. Almost every article in the building line is included in the shipment, and some idea of the improvements contemplated may be learned by stating that in this house there are thirty-six kegs and four tons of barbed wire. The shipment was the heaviest ever made by this house in the farming line. Mrs. Gates is expending a heavy sum of money in that section. She is well versed in agricultural pursuits.

TEAMING WITH ACTIVITY.

(From Saturday's Daily.)
Lessons on Lynx Creek mines near Walker are doing better than expected, was the report made yesterday by A. E. Upper, merchant, who was here on business. More mines are under operation than in many years, and the coming winter promises to be very prosperous.

RUSHING FROM SNOW BELT.

J. I. Roberts returned yesterday from Puntanney, where he started his sheep on the drive to the Date Creek and other southern feeding grounds for the winter. With other sheepmen he looks upon the present glorious weather as ominous, and when the storms break the climatic conditions will be severe. Hence, with others, there is a veritable stampede going on, and all owners are rushing their flocks out of the snow belt.

POPULAR MINER IS KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Walter W. Cheney, a miner employed at the camp of Hauser, Miller & Voge, on Copper Creek, met with a frightful death through the agency of giant powder, on Friday morning, while engaged in doing assessment work. The telephone advices were meager, but the belief is that the explosion was due to either a defective or short fuse.

His body was riddled with rocks, and presented a ghastly appearance. His throat was cut open, exposing the windpipe; one rock passed through the side of his face, coming out at the other; his temple was penetrated by an ugly wound, while his arms, shoulders and sides were lacerated into shreds. With all these injuries he lived for several hours. In an effort to save his life Dr. Looney was called to the camp, leaving yesterday morning. Before he arrived Mr. Cheney had succumbed to his wounds.

He was about 34 years of age, and had resided on the Santa Maria for several years, following the vocation of miner. He was regarded as an excellent citizen and bore a splendid reputation for industry and integrity. His body will be buried at Copper Creek today.

SOLDIER GALLANT IS SENTENCED TO PRISON

(From Saturday's Daily.)
Pleading guilty to the charge of carrying concealed weapons, in the City Recorder's court, yesterday afternoon, Thomas H. Richardson, private of Company A, 18th Infantry, was sentenced to fifty days' confinement in the city jail in default of the payment of a $50 fine.

Richardson capitulated to Night Officer Thomas McMahon, a few moments after he punctured the otherwise calm atmosphere over the Journal-Miner office, Thursday night, at 9 o'clock, with a bullet from a .38 caliber pistol he is alleged to have borrowed from a lady friend. When searched at the police station he was discovered to be a walking art gallery. Photographs of society belles of all stations in life were found in his pockets. The faces of several blushing school girls, yet in their teens, were recognized, while pictures of dashing warriors, comrades in arms, mingled indiscriminately with those of budding debutantes in the connoisseur's collection. A poetic classic suggested that had he lived in feudal times he would rank as a soldier who could "frame love ditties, passing rare, and sing them to a lady fair."

True to the traditions of the army, when arraigned, Richardson told the truth, as he said, pleading guilty, corroborating the statements of the officer who arrested him.

When the fine was imposed he admitted that he was not possessed of enough coin to secure his release, regretting that his incarceration would temporarily interfere with his military service.

TWO OFFENDERS ARRESTED.

(From Friday's Daily.)

Gray is accused of obtaining money under false pretenses from several business men in the Smelter City, while the Austrian followed the practice at several restaurants of beating his board bill. Both will be taken to Humboldt today for trial.

William Carruth and James Woods, who left this section a few months ago for the Lower San Juan river, in the northeastern part of Arizona, where placer mining discoveries were reported, returned yesterday, and state that the so-called riches are a myth. The only satisfaction they had from the long trip was in standing on the ground where the four boundary lines of Arizona, New Mexico, Utah and Colorado converge, and near which point the famous diamond excitement of 1870 broke out and for a few months electrified the nation, until it was proven a swindle. These miners state that but one outfit is operating in that field, in Colorado, and the results are not large. They will leave in a few days for the Colorado river country.
